

(A young Lara Croft is thinking about Christmas as she's going to school in a really cold and snowy day. In the Croft's car, Winston turns up the radio and a Christmas carol is suddenly played.)

It's Christmas time!

This morning when getting up
my parents told me:
'be happy my child
it's Christmas time!'

I was walking to school
and I started to think,
full of dreams and hope,
how to decorate our home
as it's Christmas time!

Small bells ringing,
bright lights and
the Nativity scene in the hall.
Sung carols and the sound of tambourines and zambombas*.
And at my grandparents',
what fantastic moments!
It's Christmas time!

Nougats! So tasty!
How sweet marzipans are!
Sugared almonds, mantecados*... Oh my!
It's Christmas time!

Jesus is born,
it's time for peace and love.
I'm a girl now,
an intrepid woman I'll be though.
But I'll never forget this festivity
always felicity.
It's Christmas time!

* Zambomba = In Spain, it's a drum-like musical instrument very used at Christmas

* Mantecados = Spanish crumble cakes
